FLOW ■ TRADERS

We  this job

Introduction

Introduction and scope

This code of conduct (the “Code of Conduct”) is established by Flow Traders Ltd. (the “Company”) in accordance with clause 6.2(b) of the Company’s board rules. The Company has laid down its business principles in this Code of Conduct. The Code of Conduct applies to each person throughout the Company’s group, including Board members, employees and officers and, where applicable, third parties such as agents, advisers, consultants, work-experience students, secondees, temps and other third parties designated as such by the Company, each referred to as “employee” and jointly referred to as “employees”. The Code of Conduct provides a minimum standard for the conduct of our employees. We have adopted several internal policies to further elaborate on any prohibitions and obligations that may apply.

Culture and values

We constantly evolve and enhance our culture to make Flow Traders the best place to work for our colleagues in an integral and ethical environment to all stakeholders.

Traditionally Flow Traders has a strong culture which we foster and are proud of. We’re passionate about creating an international, diverse, and empowering culture, which is focused on teamwork, collaboration and fostering talent.

Our culture is underpinned with a strong set of values that we live by across our firm:

- We are one team: With one common goal, the success of Flow Traders. We share the same incentives and values. Our dialogue is honest and open as we support each other to succeed.

- We are entrepreneurial: We thrive on a challenge and are critical thinkers. We pursue new ideas and innovations to strengthen and grow Flow Traders.
- We are driven: We are driven to excel and continuously improve. We are confident and rely on our collective strengths.
- We act responsibly: We operate as a responsible market participant by adhering to the highest standard of governance principles and contribute positively to market integrity.

Our culture is not set in stone. Flow Traders grew significantly in headcount over the years (since 2018 our company grew more than 50% in headcount). And within this growth the functional focus of workforce also widened. Next to the Trading division we widened our focus on Technological and Business Support functions as well in the last years. This means our culture constantly evolves accordingly.

Therefore, we find it very important to regularly monitor our culture and see where we can or need to enhance. In doing so, we constantly remain honest and critical to ourselves by considering inside out, and also outside in signals about our company culture. We periodically look how we can use those inputs to enhance and evolve our culture.

We see it of the utmost importance that we keep nurturing and sharing our culture both internally as well as externally. In this document we will provide deeper insights on our culture and on how we foster and evolve our culture using our “Culture enhancement framework.”

Culture & Values

We have a lot in place to foster our culture and values

Maintaining, preserving and nurturing our culture is extremely important to everyone across the organization. This is done by:

Flow Traders' Leadership - through the organization of firm-wide events and company outings as well as regular all-staff updates. In addition, a yearly engagement survey is offered to ensure open communication and enable employees to raise their voice. Next to this all leadership is always approachable, e.g., everyone can step into boardroom (open door culture).

Business departments - providing specific trainings or learning sessions towards our people through which we actively stimulate their personal and career development.

Colleagues themselves - reinforcing the strength of our culture by organizing their own events, competitions, and charitable endeavors.

Societal commitments and charities – Supporting multiple charities, also through our own Flow Traders Foundation, not only financially but also by offering access to our knowledge and experience.

To guarantee a safe and inclusive environment, Flow Traders emphasizes on several strong enablers to make all employees feel included and safe; we offer:

- A group of internal and external 'trusted persons' to discuss challenges and difficulties in private in case desirable.
- A zero-tolerance policy in case of unacceptable behavior in any form
- Code of Conduct whatsoever and clear follow up procedures towards all stakeholders.

- A clear DE&I policy including targets.
- A yearly global employee satisfaction survey which is conducted by HR and of which results are shared transparently with all employees including next steps.
- Ability to always work in the office to connect and thrive together.
- Ability to work from home at dedicated moments per week to maintain the flexibility to perform in the best way possible if that means working from a remote location.
- Ability to rotate between different offices to grow and develop and carry out your work to the best of your ability with the right group of colleagues.
- A wide range of company and individual training opportunities offered to all colleagues, tailored to the needs and tenure of the participants to make sure everyone is able to develop and grow themselves at the pace they prefer.
- A non-hierarchical working culture in which all employees can easily contact each other without any hierarchical boundaries (e.g., Board members and senior leadership are always approachable (no separate offices or closed doors), instilling ownership and accountability).
- A wide range of global and local company events in which all employees from all backgrounds can participate if they like to.
- A focus on healthy lifestyle for employees to participate in voluntarily (gym with personal programs, hairdresser, massages, healthy kitchen meals and nutrition advise, etc.)

Flow Traders' Company Values

Our three company values are supported by clear guiding sub-values, providing more details and explanation.

Our three company values resonate well and are easy to remember for all employees. However, to work with the values, or use the values as input

A Whistleblower Policy is in place together with an official complaint policy in case of behavioral misconduct.

6.2 Trusted persons

It can happen to anyone from time to time: something happens which makes you feel insecure or uncomfortable. You wonder what to do with it. For example, you see that a colleague does something that is unacceptable or that you are confronted with undesirable behavior, such as bullying or intimidation. Also, a cooperation problem or a difference of opinion with a colleague can really play tricks on you and you need a sounding board or outlet. It often helps to talk about this with another colleague, someone from HR or your manager. But sometimes you don't want to or you can't. Maybe your colleague or supervisor is involved in it, maybe you are afraid of the reactions. In those cases, you can call on a confidential adviser: the Trusted Person. You can contact the Trusted Persons with questions, reports, problems or doubts about integrity or undesirable behavior, such as bullying, aggression, (sexual) intimidation, discrimination or unwanted treatment.

Trusted Person are available as a sounding board: they listen to you and takes your story seriously. Trusted Persons think along with you about what you can do and can help you put things in the right perspective for yourself. They can also support you in determining any follow-up steps and, if desired, guide you in this.

All Trusted Persons have followed a training and ensure confidentiality.

7. EQUAL TREATMENT

Companies that are diverse (e.g., in terms of age, gender, race, sexual orientation, physical or mental ability, ethnicity, and perspective) are proven to be more successful in attracting talent. Moreover, companies with a high degree of diversity are also proven to accomplish better performance and growth. A diverse workforce will stimulate greater innovation and creativity, bring forward a larger range of skills, increase productivity through a broad range of backgrounds and experience, and provide more talent to choose from.

Flow Traders embraces this philosophy and sees the added value diversity brings to our business. Our current company demographics are also something to be proud of however, at Flow Traders we look beyond diversity. We create a workplace where everyone is welcome regardless of e.g., race, ethnicity, age, gender, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, economic status and other diverse backgrounds.

There is so much power and potential in the fantastic mix of people Flow Traders comprises. To unleash this power and potential we need to be genuinely inclusive and aim for full equality. Therefore, maintaining a safe and equal environment is our key objective when looking at DE&I. This is accomplished through genuine commitment from all colleagues. At Flow Traders we do this with each other for each other.
